Dear friends and colleagues,

We are delighted to invite you to attend the 10th International Pseudomonas syringae Conference, to be held in Akureyri, Iceland, June 15th to 19th, 2020.

In the spirit of previous P. syringae conferences, Psyringae2020 will present discussion on cutting-edge research and current thought on the pathogenicity, genomics, ecology, and molecular biology of the P. syringae complex. Among invited speakers confirmed to give plenary addresses at the meeting are renowned experts including:

- David Baltrus
- Carmen Beuzon
- Darrell Desveaux
- Tory Hendry
- Kevin Hockett
- Jaime Huertas
- Michelle Hulin
- Talia Karasov
- Britt Koskella
- Emilia Lopez Solanilla
- Cindy Morris
- Gail Preston
- Cayo Ramos
- Boris Vinatzer

Abstract submission opens September 15th, 2019 and closes February 29th, 2020.

A preliminary session programme, subject to amendments in response to submitted abstracts, is as follows:

- ❑ Becoming Pseudomonas syringae: the evolution of a plant pathogen.
- ❑ The Call of the Wild: Pseudomonas syringae in habitats beyond agriculture.
- ❑ The Pseudomonad that Came In From the Cold: host invasion, virulence and host responses.
- ❑ Stranger in a Strange Land: effect of biotic and abiotic environmental factors on population dynamics and disease.
- ❑ Love in the Time of Necrosis: disease anticipation, prevention and management.

On behalf of the local and scientific organizing committees,

Oddur Vilhelmsson and Cindy E. Morris
